

WAGON OVERTURNED AND EIGHT INJURED

Car Strikes Merry Party of Women and Children
Near Baltimore.

WIFE OF PHYSICIAN MAY NOT RECOVER

Society Girl Whose Finger Was Broken Has Rings Filed
Off for Treatment.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 8.—Eight persons are today suffering from more or less serious injuries as a result of a wagon in which they were riding last night being struck by an electric car and turned upside down, the party being hurled violently to the roadway.

The injured:
Mrs. Sophia Cook Watters, spine badly injured and bruised about face, limbs, and body.

Miss Fannie Cook, third finger of left hand broken.

Mrs. S. G. Rossin, Marlborough apartments, right leg broken just above ankle.

Mrs. Theodore Cook, jr., back injured and cut about face.

Mrs. George Vest, Pikesville, right ankle sprained.

Miss Jeannette Wheeler, Pikesville, ankle sprained.

Master Theodore Cook, cut on face, and scalp wounds.

Herbert B. Bowen, Pikesville, driver of wagon, back injured.

The occupants of the vehicle, who are all well known in society, were being entertained at the Woodbine farm, the country seat of Dr. Theodore Cook, of North Charles street, this city, and were on their way to the Baltimore Country Club when the accident occurred.

One of the injured, Miss Fannie Cook, sister of Dr. Cook, wears three rings on the third finger of her left hand. This finger was broken, and in order to treat it the rings had to be filed off. There was a blacksmith shop not far from where the accident occurred, and one of the party hurried there and got a file, with which crude tool the rings were filed off.

Mrs. Sophia Cook Watters, a daughter of Dr. Cook, is perhaps fatally injured, and her condition was reported today as being critical.

HUGHES CONCLUDES KANSAS CAMPAIGN

Replies to Charges Made Regarding Contributions Made During Race for Governor.

WICHITA, Kan., Oct. 8.—Governor Hughes, of New York, has concluded his speaking tour of Kansas. He spoke at eight towns to farmers and railroad and business men. At Topeka Governor Hughes said attacks had recently been made upon him in connection with contributions to his campaign funds while he was running for governor two years ago, and he took occasion to reply to them.

Among other things, Mr. Hughes said: "The contributions made when I ran for governor against Mr. Hearst had nothing whatever to do with my purposes, my policies, or my official position. When I was nominated for governor I mailed my flag to the mast, and there it has been floating ever since."

PUTS ROOSEVELT IN BARNUM CLASS

Only Two Who Have Fooled People
for Long, Says
Easby-Smith.

"President Roosevelt has fooled the country for eight years now, and he is the only man, with the exception of P. T. Barnum, who has been able to fool the people," said Attorney J. S. Easby-Smith at the Democratic meeting last night in the Munsey building. "That the Republicans point their fingers at Roosevelt as the personification of all that is honest, and say that Taft is unimpeachable, shows that the people are still being fooled," Mr. Easby-Smith continued.

National Committeeman Edward A. Newman presided, and Thomas L. Sloan, of Nebraska, spoke on Bryan and his principles.

HIS MIND WAS MADE UP.

It was during a trial in an Alabama city more than twenty years ago that one of the jurors suddenly rose from his seat and precipitately fled from the court room. He was arrested in his flight before he had left the building and brought back.

"What do you mean by running off in that way?" asked the judge, who knew the man to be a simple, honest farmer. "It's like this, your honor," said the man, earnestly. "When Mr. Hobbs finished talking my mind was all clear, but when Mr. Clayton began I was all confused again, and I said to myself, 'I'd better leave at once, and stay away till he's done,' for to tell the truth, I didn't like the way the argument was going, your honor."—Youth's Companion.

Strenuous Politics Is Played By Boy Supporters of Bryan

Vote Democratic Ticket or Take a Licking was Ultimatum
Presented to Taft Men in the Jefferson School.

The District education authorities have taught better than they knew. In giving their pupils an opportunity to express their political preferences, they have brought to light a knowledge of the game which hitherto was supposed to be confined within the limits known as "Tammany." But Little Tim Sullivan and his cohorts never developed a gang of vote producers that could equal in power and resourcefulness the crew which refused to tolerate the name of Taft, in the Presidential election which was held yesterday at the Jefferson School, in Southwest Washington.

The mere fact that the Democrats were in the majority and carried their candidate to victory, with a vote that might well put shame into the hearts of the Taft supporters, did not suffice. They just simply did not want a minority vote at all. Bryan not only must have a majority vote; he must have the vote of every man capable of casting a ballot—and what's more, he got it.

Political discussions have been waxing warm at the school for several days past. Yesterday was election day. When the votes were counted, it was found that of the forty-eight pupils entitled to the franchise, thirty-five favored the Peerless One, a scant thirteen voting for Taft. To all intents and purposes the vote was convincing, but the victors would not tolerate political discussion on in the school. Arguments availed them nothing, so force of arms, real human arms, was resorted to. When oral persuasion failed, a straight jab to the mouth was thrown in and when that brought forth no good results, a blow on the nose was added for good measure.

Usually the nose blow was enough to send the voter scurrying from the Republican to the Democratic columns. There were a few, however, who clung tenaciously to their political belief, and for these a new form of torture was devised. They were hustled off to an excavation and unceremoniously dumped within. There they remained until thoughts of Taft were obliterated from his mind and Bryan became the dominating factor in the unfortunate pupil's political horizon. "I'm for Bryan" was the signal for release, and before the day was over Bryan's election was made unanimous.

ONE PERSON KILLED WHEN CARS COLLIDE

Passenger Hits Work Train on

HAVERHILL, Mass., Oct. 8.—An open car filled with Italian laborers and a Georgetown regular car with thirty-eight passengers collided on the Boston and Northern Street Railway in Bradford district this morning, and as a result one passenger was killed, a motor-man is probably dying at the Hale Hospital, ten Italians are confined there with injuries, and the surgeons' offices in that vicinity were taxed to the utmost in caring for the slightly injured.

BOYS ARE INDICTED FOR DAVIS MURDER

Hill and Borst, Alleged Slayers, Both Claim the Other Did the Shooting.

NORWICH, N. Y., Oct. 8.—Earl Hill and David Borst, nineteen and eighteen years old, respectively, and both from Oneonta, were indicted today by the Chenango county grand jury for murder in the first degree. Hill and Borst are charged with the killing of Eldredge Davis in a pasture on his farm near here on August 26 last. Both Hill and Borst have made statements admitting being present at the shooting of Davis, whom they had planned to rob, but each asserts that the other fired the fatal shot.

BALKS AT KISSING HUSBAND'S MOTHER

Carolyn Dudley Declares Acquired
Parent Uses Tobacco and Drinks Liquor—Is Divorced.

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Oct. 8.—Carolyn Sullivan, an actress, known as Lynn Darcy, who has been playing ingenue parts in "The Follies of 1907," obtained a divorce in the circuit court here from her husband, Maurice Sullivan, an actor. Drunkenness and desertion were the principal charges of the petition. The plaintiff receives permission to resume her maiden name, Carolyn Dudley.

Miss Dudley also asserted that her husband abused her because she would not kiss her mother-in-law, who, she alleges, used tobacco and drank to excess.

SNEERS OF A CYNIC.

On his wedding day a man should close his past life and sit on the lid.

No matter how loud a woman dresses she imagines she is dressed artistically. No, a woman doesn't necessarily handle a broom when she makes sweeping assertions.

And it sometimes happens that a man is not fully appreciated by his wife until she collects his life insurance.

About the first thing a woman does after moving into a flat is to look in all the closets to see if the last tenants left any family skeletons. It takes a woman with sound judgment to generate silence. The girl who marries for money is lucky if she even gets that. The young man who presents a girl with a pound of bonbons is her ideal—until another young man comes along with a two-pound box.—St. Louis Star.
